Sujin Lee

(b.1990, Jeju Island)

Currently lives in Seoul

Sujin Lee was born in Jeju Island, Korea, famous for its rich landscapes, and has since moved to Seoul, a contrasting metropolitan hub of Korea where she currently lives and works. Lee is heavily inspired by her close circle of friends who influence the groups of female figures in her works. Lee also takes great inspiration from the tranquilizing presence of nature in her hometown Jeju Island, and her works reflecting this often include backdrops of cityscapes with thick leafy plants surrounding groups of female figures. Lee's works are a true celebration of female friendship, sisterhood, and all that lies in-between. Lee currently lives and works in Seoul, Korea. In 2019 she was awarded the Selected Artist Price, the 47th Grand Art Exhibition of Jeju. Selected exhibitions include: Glad to me, Carlos Queso Gallery, Los Angeles (2016); One Page, Lottie Gallery, Seoul (2017); Art in my Mouth, Secret Fresh Gallery, Manila (2019). Lee's work was included in an exhibition at chi K11 Art Museum in Shanghai, China. Lee's work is held in the permanent collections of the Boghossian Foundation, Brussels, Belgium and the Museu Inima De Paula, Brazil. and shaping my thoughts before the thoughts shape my work.'
